What skills and experience we're looking for:

- Experience of working with a range of student needs and Autism is required
- Experience of supporting students with managing their behaviour positively and a confident and positive attitude
- Experience of working in a multi-disciplinary team is desirable
- An eye for detail for good communication skills
- Excellent communication skills and a team player

What the school offers its staff:

- A highly supportive school community
- A school that actively promotes a work/life balance
- A strong focus on staff wellbeing support
- A structured programme of support and development
- A strong, experienced and stable staff team
- A salary of between £25 000 and £30 000 per year

Further details about the role

The Lion Works School is an Independent Special School for students aged 11-18 with an EHCP and predominantly a diagnosis of Autism.

We are recruiting a new role for an Engagement coach who will support students across multiple sites as well as training and upskilling staff in supporting students to engage positively at all times.

Experience of working with a range of additional needs is essential although experience in this specific role is not essential as full training will be provided.

We would love to hear from you if you are confident, resilient, have excellent communication skills and share our passion for creating the best possible opportunities and outcomes for our students.

Commitment to safeguarding

The Lion Works School are committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment. The posts are subject to an enhanced DBS check, evidence of essential qualifications being seen prior to interview and satisfactory references. No CVs will be accepted and an application form must be completed prior to interview.
